BOULDER CREEK — Students at Redwood Elementary are nearing completion of this masterpiece with the help of Santa Cruz muralist Ralph d'Oliveira. From left are Shane Barron, Andy Taylor, Tim Cook, Ariel Israel, Danielle DeLaurentis and Monica Gutron. The mural is one of five that will be installed at schools around Santa Cruz County over the next three years to present a positive health message to young people. The $35,000 project, coordinated by the county Cultural Council and county Health Services Agency, is being underwritten by the settlement of an anti-tobacco lawsuit.
